

CRICKET LUCK

When the pitch is illuminated, the lights beaming down, millions of people watching, anticipation fills the crowd.

You have to maximise the opportunity, and overcome your fear, silence your surroundings, the time is here.

Comprehend the moment,
look at the sky,
don't lose your focus,
it is your time to strike.

Watch the ball approach you, will you hit it or not?
Prepare yourself for anything, so you don't miss your shot.

You hit the ball well,
clean off the bat,
flying through the air,
but the fielder is waiting for the catch,

It flies straight towards him,
and all hope is lost,
somehow by miracle,
the ball has been dropped.

By William Gray (P7)