

The Big Garden Watch

What is the big garden watch?

- The Big Garden Watch is an event where people all over the UK can look for and count the birds they see
- Because the UK is quite a large area, the weather can vary from place to place, promoting different opportunities for different species of birds
- The event is hosted by the RSPB (The Royal Society for the Protection of Birds) and takes place in and around January each year

